50X1-HUM

1. An oil refinery located near the port of Ruse has been enlarged considerably in the past two years and has been supplied with Soviet equipment. Four large storage tanks are visible above ground and there are additional underground tanks.
2. The refinery is supervised by Soviet technicians. It is supplied by pipeline from Rumania and its products are despatched by railway tank cars.
3. The general public is refused access to the refinery and also to the platform in the main station in Ruse which serves the railway line connecting the station with the refinery.
